...There are not

[illegible] Blaine strength, the men who [illegible] opposed to Alger have [illegible] Blaine county and that Alger would [illegible] the lucky and innocent [illegible] the fight that the Blaine [illegible] make against the other [illegible] line with this idea comes [illegible] was circulated last night that a [illegible] caucus of Blaine's old friends [illegible] held to-day, as some say, for the purpose of making a coup de theatre by Blaine in the convention, but as many people believe, to consolidate and unite the Blaine following for some other candidate with a view to a little revenge and a good many loaves and fishes. Caucuses however, are being held by all the different possible elements, among the delegates, and it would surprise nobody if the result would turn out to be after all Blaine himself.

The campaign has not yet been opened for Depew and the other candidates. The Ingalls boom will arrive on Saturday in charge of Colonel Hallowell of Wichita, Kansas. Ingalls is likely to get a number of southern votes in addition to the [illegible] a disposition on the part of southern delegates to await the action of the states which will have to furnish the votes. Sherman and Gresham are however the favorites among them. Interviews with [illegible] friends of the candidates, men who speak as having authority, result in arranging the apparent strength of the men on as follows: Sherman first with over three hundred votes; Alger second, Gresham third, Allison fourth, the field fifth, with possibilities in favor of several favorites. It is estimated, and said to be a conservative estimate, that over five hundred of the delegates would prefer Blaine to any other if there were an [illegible] convention could be convinced that the Florence letter had not ruined his availability as a candidate. Out of all the doubts, surmises, rumors and reports true and false [illegible] in which the most credence may be put. The situation is a puzzling one, and even the best posted politicians in the republican party confess their inability to unravel it.

Gresham on the Tariff.

CHICAGO, June 15.—A. D. Sharon, of San Francisco, said in an interview, "I am the advanced guard of the Californians, although not a delegate. Blaine is the favorite of the delegation, but Blaine has declared himself out of the race. Our delegates are unpledged and uninstructed, but I have made a thorough canvass and decided to my own satisfaction that California will cast a solid vote for Gresham. There was one point on which we were undecided until this afternoon. That assures our allegiance to Gresham. It had been hinted to us that he was not entirely sound on the tariff question. No man, however unexceptionable in other respects, can get our vote if he is tainted with the slightest suspicion even of free trade dogmas. To determine this matter, I requested Gresham to grant me an interview. He readily acquiesced, made a thoroughly satisfactory assurance on that point to us, and I am now enabled to state to our delegates that he is thoroughly sound on the tariff question. I have spoken with several Pacific coast delegates from other states and think that Gresham will get their vote."

Indiana's Position.

CHICAGO, June 15.—At General Harrison's headquarters to-day it was denied that there had been any conference between the friends of Harrison and Gresham. John C. New said: "No conference was held and none sought for by the friends of either candidate. There is nothing to confer about. We are making no fight on Gresham, and so far as we know his friends are making none on Harrison. The business of the Indiana delegation is to carry out the instructions of the republican state convention and do what we can to secure the nomination of Harrison. The impression [illegible] correct one. Gresham doubtless has many friends among the republican party in Indiana, but the sentiment expressed at the county and state conventions and the instructions given are for Harrison. Those instructions Indiana will carry out."

"Blaine or Bust."

COUNCIL BLUFFS, IA., June 15.—The train bearing the Pacific coast delegation, representing 42 votes, all [illegible] bunting and flags and [illegible] half past three o'clock this afternoon. The local committee on reception which was on hand at once caught the sentiment of the coasters by flaunting the American flag with a portrait of Blaine [illegible] over the field of stars. There was [illegible] crowding about this banner. [illegible] all for Blaine was the cry and one of the delegates [illegible] Blaine or Bust.

Colorado will act with the coast in voting the selection of [illegible] for temporary or permanent chairman. M. H

The Nebraska Contingent.

[illegible] Thurston [illegible] New York [illegible] he would be a stroke of policy that would be of service to the party in the country, and would be a well deserved honor to the position of trust he has held among his compatriots. Mr. Egan was seen this evening and said that while he appreciated the honor sought to be bestowed upon him by his friends, the Nebraska delegation would be solid for Thurston.

Colorado's Delegation.

DENVER, June 15.—The Colorado delegation to the Chicago convention left here this evening by special train, over the Burlington. Besides the delegates and alternates about 130 citizens were aboard the train. The Colorado men are for Blaine first and last. "But," said a delegate before the train left, "if we find it impossible or inadvisable to nominate Mr. Blaine, I am then for Depew, and I know from conversation with the other five of our delegation that they are also Depew men. Mr. Hamill has always desired to have Senator Teller nominated, but as this is impossible at the present convention I am positive he will go with us for the New Yorker." About 200 people left at 10 o'clock to-night on a special train over the Union Pacific and about the same number including the Union club and their friends left at three this afternoon over the Rio Grande and Missouri Pacific. So there will be between four and five hundred Coloradans at Chicago during the convention.

New Yorkers Interviewed.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Hon. T. C. Platt of New York arrived to-night. He was called upon by a representative of the associated press with a view of obtaining the temper of the New York state delegation. Mr. Platt said he had no information for the public, and he meant thereby that nothing whatever concerning his delegation should now be definitely told.

"Is your delegation practically united?" asked the reporter.

"Yes," said Mr. Platt. "I think so. The four delegates at large will confer on Monday and if they are unanimous I have no doubt the entire delegation will join them."

"How many delegates has Depew now, do you think?" was asked.

"I have no knowledge," was the answer. "Possibly all of them. I think he can have a majority if he will accept the nomination."

The reporter then turned his attention to William Walter Phelps of New Jersey. Mr. Phelps believed the general situation extremely complicated, and regretted he could throw no special light upon it.

Delegate S. A. Phillips, from Roscoe Conkling's district, said: "You may say emphatically that Depew will have sixty of our seventy-two votes. If Depew is not a candidate our choice will be for the man who can win."

A prominent ex-congressman from New York who desired his name withheld, said: "The second choice of most of our delegates is John Sherman. His cook and Platt are at heart in favor of Alger, but if Depew will accept we will have practically a solid delegation. If New York does not get first place it will say what western state shall. The New York delegation in point of preference is an unknown quantity."

Political Gossip.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Editor Rosewater of the Omaha Bee and ex-Senator Saunders are authority for the statement that the state will give Allison a complimentary vote, after which it will break and go no one knows where.

Friends of Sherman and Alger are positive that the Nebraska delegation will be divided between the Ohio man and Michigan's [illegible]. Gresham's friends had an informal meeting at the headquarters to-night. After adjournment [illegible] and Gresham, who undertook to discuss the merits of the candidates, came to blows. This was the outgrowth of the Blaine talk which was indulged in to-night.

There were more figures shown to-night than heretofore giving estimates [illegible] different candidates which all seem to show that there was no solution to the situation but the magic of Blaine. It was always insisted that Blaine was not a candidate and could not be owing to his two letters but this [illegible] statement did not seem to down the [illegible] Knight's ghost.

Gresham being the local candidate has the largest number of boomers. Harrison appears to have the next best following in point of numbers. Alger's headquarters was the Mecca of the country and probably more visitors from more states called there than at any other place. Sherman's headquarters present [illegible] somewhat cheerless appearance principally because it is located on the third floor and that but few of the Ohio delegates have arrived.

Emperor Frederick Dead.

BERLIN, June 15.—The emperor died at 11 o'clock this morning.

POTSDAM, June 15.—A bulletin issued an hour before the emperor died said that the emperor had been lying for some hours in a slight slumber broken by wakeful intervals during which he showed less and signs of consciousness. He gave [illegible] suffering [illegible] His pulse and breathing were very weak. There had been no material change in his condition during the night. All the members of the imperial family remained at the castle until after midnight. The empress did not leave the castle, and at four o'clock resumed her watch by the bedside of the emperor.

BERLIN, June 15.—The death of the emperor has caused intense excitement in the city to-day. All the members of the royal family and ministers were present in the death chamber at Friedrichskron palace. A ministerial council was held just before the emperor died. Prince Bismarck, who presided at the council, was much agitated. The bourse closed on account of the death of the emperor.

Official Announcement.

BERLIN, June 15.—The Reichsanzeiger (official paper), publishes the following announcement:

The royal sufferer has ended his earthly career. By God's decree the emperor and king, our most gracious master, passed to his eternal rest shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, after long and grievous sufferings, which were borne with admirable fortitude and submission to God's will. The royal house and the German people have been twice bereaved within a short time. They deeply mourn the all too early decease of our much beloved ruler.

[Signed] MINISTRY OF STATE.

BERLIN, June 15.—Bells in Berlin began tolling at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mourning is displayed on many houses. The municipal council received notice of the death of the emperor while in session. They immediately adjourned.

THE LAST HOURS.

POTSDAM, June 15.—During the early hours of the evening the emperor's condition was comparatively good and he sat up for half an hour in a chair and took some nourishment. At three o'clock there was an alarming increase in his majesty's weakness, and relatives who had left the palace were telegraphed to return. At four o'clock he became restless and soon after the whole family assembled in the room adjacent to that in which the emperor lay. At ten o'clock this morning access to the palace was stopped. Count Von Stolberg Wernigerode, the court chamberlain, was the only minister present at that hour. Chaplains Persius and Rogge were also in attendance.

The emperor lay this morning in a lethargic condition, sometimes rousing for a few minutes. During the last hour of his life he made several fruitless attempts to make himself understood. He died without a struggle, surrounded by all members of the family. The remains now lie in the bed where he died. Von Werner sketched the emperor's features after death. The flag flying over the palace was lowered to half mast at 11:20 this morning. Prince Bismarck arrived at Potsdam at 1:40 this afternoon. Hussars occupy the road from Friedrichskron castle to Sans Souci. In the interior of the castle the Lehr battalion mounts guard.

THE NEW EMPEROR.

POTSDAM, 4 p. m., June 15.—The ministers are now assembled at Friedrichskron castle. They are awaiting an audience with the new emperor and empress, who are now at the castle.

BERLIN, June 15.—The bundesrath met at noon to-day. Prince Bismarck formally announced the death of Emperor Frederick and accession to the throne of William, who takes the title William Second.

SCENES AT THE BEDSIDE.

POTSDAM, June 15.—Some details are now becoming known in regard to the last hours of the emperor. An hour after midnight the empress dismissed the members of the imperial family to their apartments and prepared herself to watch the night through in a room adjoining the emperor. Dr. Hovell shared the vigil. At this time the emperor was in full possession of his faculties. Shortly after 1 o'clock he wrote on a slip of paper the following questions, which he handed to Dr. Hovell: "How is my pulse? Are you satisfied with it?" Between 2 and 3 o'clock his breathing became terribly labored. At some moments [illegible] struggle would occur alternating with spasms and great distress as the hard fight with approaching death progressed. By this time his strength was seen to be waning. As soon as it became evident the end was near the empress caused the royal family to be summoned.

At six o'clock all gathered around the bedside. Dr. Koegel, court chaplain, who had been summoned by telegram from Ems, did not arrive in time to administer the last sacrament. Dr. Passins therefore officiated in this ceremony. Pastor Rogge was also present in the death chamber. During the administration of the sacrament and, indeed, even to within fifteen minutes before his death the emperor appeared to be quite [illegible] He showed by the expression [illegible] by the movements of his eyes [illegible] still recognized all who [illegible] the bedside. Relatives and a number of officers who had been summoned early in the morning reached the palace [illegible] death took place.

The emperor's remains will probably [illegible] in the garrison church at Potsdam. By order of the Evangelical [illegible] the bells will be tolled at specified hours for fourteen days in all the Protestant churches of the kingdom.

Before his death Emperor Frederick gave directions that his remains should be interred in the garrison church at Potsdam.

SORROW IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 15.—Much sorrow is expressed at the death of the emperor of Germany, who was very popular here. Flags are flying at half mast, and the blinds of many houses were lowered immediately upon receipt of the intelligence of the emperor's death. Queen Victoria telegraphed a message of sympathy and sorrow to Empress Victoria. The Prince of Wales has returned from Ascot Heath, and will probably start for Berlin to-night. The stock market was inactive. Foreign securities were a shade firmer, the impression of operators being that the death of the emperor of Germany will cause no weakening of Prince Bismarck's power, and that the peace policy will continue to predominate in Germany.

AMERICAN SYMPATHY.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Intelligence of the death of the emperor was received by Secretary Bayard this morning by cable message from the United States legation at Berlin. The secretary immediately informed the president, and the following telegram was sent to Berlin:

Pendleton, Minister at Berlin:

The president desires you to make expression through the foreign office of the respectful sympathy felt throughout the United States for the German nation in the loss of their emperor, who has at last yielded to death with such lofty, courageous, calm resignation to the divine decree.

[Signed] BAYARD.

FOREIGN PARLIAMENTS INFORMED.

LONDON, June 15.—Lord Salisbury announced the death of the emperor to the house of lords this afternoon, and said on Monday he would move an address to the queen and dowager Empress Victoria.

VIENNA, June 15.—An order has been issued closing the royal theatres on account of the death of Emperor Frederick.

ROME, June 15.—Signor Crispi, prime minister, announced the death of Emperor Frederick to the chamber of deputies to-day. He made a pathetic allusion to the dead ruler. By unanimous vote the chamber adjourned until Monday out of respect for the late monarch.

LONDON, June 15.—W. F. Smith, leader of the government, announced this afternoon in the house of commons the death of Emperor Frederick. He will move an address on Monday expressing the sorrow of the English nation.

FRENCH SYMPATHY.

PARIS, June 15.—President Carnot to-day telegraphed a message of sympathy to the new German emperor, and the cabinet ministers left their cards at the German embassy.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

POTSDAM, June 15.—In accordance with the wishes of the late emperor and empress, Emperor William II. has ordered that the funeral be held Monday evening. The obsequies will be devoid of pomp and will be of a military character. Owing to limited accommodations the attendance will necessarily be very small.

BISMARCK'S FAREWELL.

A touching scene occurred at the bedside this morning while the emperor's life was passing away. Bismarck had been called to bid his dying master farewell. The emperor was thoroughly conscious, and taking the hand of the aged chancellor in his own feeble grasp and motioning to the empress to draw nearer he took her hand and joined it with that of Bismarck, thus giving a silent and pathetic token of his desire for the reconciliation of all differences between his wife and the prime minister.

Sheridan's Condition.

WASHINGTON, 9 a. m., June 15.—No change in General Sheridan's condition. He rested well during the night, cough troubling him very little. His pulse is good and respiration improving. He continues to take sufficient nourishment, which apparently assimilates.

Lynchers Cheated.

UNION BRIDGE, Md., June 15.—John Bowmans, colored, was taken from jail here a little after 1 o'clock this morning by a band of twelve or fifteen colored men, masked, and carried to the outskirts of the town, where he was strung up by the neck to the limb of a tree. He motioned to be let down, and the rope was slacked so that he could speak. He made good use of the opportunity and slipped through the rope and jumped away like a shot. The lynchers gave chase and fired several shots after him, but without effect. He has not been recaptured yet. Bowmans was arrested yesterday for assaulting another colored man named Othis, and a colored girl named Hollenberry. The motive was jealousy. The girl and Othis, who is blind, were on their way home when overtaken by Bowmans, who asked the girl to go with him. She refused and he struck her, breaking her jaw bone. Othis tried to defend her but being blind could do but little. Bowmans slashed him terribly all over the face and body with a razor. He also assaulted the girl, almost severing her ears. Both are very low and Othis is not expected to live.

Lawless Towns.

WICHITA, Kas., June 15.—Reports from Stevens county state that the entire population of the towns of Hugoton and Woodsdale are under arms. Squads of citizens are patrolling the country night and day, and show but little respect for the property of others. Two of these patrolmen met Monday and a lively fusilade ensued. Three horses were left dead on the field and it is not known whether anybody was killed or not. The situation is very serious.

Until the politicians began to arrive in Chicago, the people had a chance to express their opinions. They were all for Gresham. Now Gresham is put third in the list. The politicians do not like Gresham. But it would be well for them to remember that the people elect the candidates.

The simple facts in the life of the dead emperor are these. He was born October eighteenth, 1831. In 1858 he married Victoria, the eldest living child of the queen of England. He was made lieutenant-general in the German army in 1860. In the war with Austria in 1866 he commanded the army of the Oder with distinction. In the war with France he commanded the third army corps. He defeated MacMahon at Reichshofen and drove him to Sedan. He finally forced the surrender of Napoleon. For this he was made a field marshal. Of all the field commanders he was most distinguished in this war. Since then he has acted as regent and president of the eastern frontier defence. But his high position prevented any activity in civil affairs. He ascended the throne at the age of fifty seven, eight years younger than his father when he became king of Prussia, and seventeen years younger than when he became emperor of Germany.

The death of the emperor of Germany is announced in our telegraphic news this morning. While the news is no surprise, it will call forth the most heartfelt sorrow all over the civilized world. His manliness and courage in his illness have elicited the most profound sympathy. No king ever ascended a more powerful throne or inherited a larger opportunity than Frederick the Third. His father and Bismarck had made Germany easily the first power in Europe. The notions of absolute power held by William the First undoubtedly aided in the abolishment of a strong centralized government. But the people had outgrown these mediæval ideas, and only respect for the patriotic services of the Emperor William and Bismarck prevented a strong reaction. The people were ready for the change under the new emperor. His great opportunity was to put himself at the head of this democratic movement and steer Germany clear from the shoals of anarchy into the safe harbor of stable government founded on democratic ideas. All his public utterances gave ample promise of what he would do. Castelar in his letter to the GAZETTE of yesterday gave a clear exposition of what the political views of Frederick were. His reign would have marked an epoch in which there would have appeared no conflict between a firm constitutional government and the largest freedom of the people. But illness and now death prevented him from entering on his great career. His character would have called forth admiration in any walk of life. Though not in sympathy with his father's views of absolute government, he never by a single word or act counselled or encouraged any opposition. He was always absolutely loyal to his father and the German people. The judicial temper of his mind and his broad sympathies were shown by his adherence to democratic ideas though brought up to believe in the divine right of kings. The accident of birth made him an emperor. But his brave pure life made him a good noble man. Because of this his death should be profoundly mourned by those who love purity, honor and courage as well as the people of Germany who have lost a sovereign.

HORSEBACK FOR LADIES.

Some Entertaining Thoughts on an Exercise that is Always in Fashion.

Theodore Parker once said that the outside of a horse is good for the inside of a man. As Belva Lockwood says, the term "man" includes generically his fair counterpart, it must therefore be considered beneficial to the whole human race. We have already approached the season when equestrianism begins, and there is no fairer sight to be witnessed these June days than the pretty girls on horseback who go daily in and around the park with roses in their cheeks and with bridle ways that so captivate the onlooker that, if a pun is pardonable, must lead to other bridal accompaniments in due time for every one of them. In the riding habit all women are attractive, especially if they have skill in handling the horse. For nothing suggests sentiment so much, and nothing so readily promotes it as horseback riding.

Probably few who indulge in this graceful and healthful exercise know much about its origin for ladies. At first the use of the horse as a direct means of locomotion was made necessary by the absence of good roads and of decent vehicles, which could not exist until good roads were made. To [illegible] [illegible] travel then in which women might share [illegible] the side saddle was invented. [illegible] [illegible] hundred years ago, and in the reign of Richard II of England. A record of his time says: "Being threatened by the rebels of Kent," he rode "from the Tower of London to the Mile's End and with him his mother, because she was sick and weak in a whirlicote." This primitive thing was merely "an ugly vehicle of four boards put together in a clumsy manner." The journey could not have been a pleasant one so undertaken, and when, only a year later, this monarch married Anne of Luxembourg the whirlicote went out of use for ordinary occasions, as the new royal wife introduced the side saddle.

Probably women rode on horseback before the ride [illegible] the arrival, but if they did they must have done so astride, as Mrs. Stanton and many health writers think woman should do now. In a description of female equestrianism, which bears date of 1311, the writer, describing the tournaments of that time, says they are attended by many ladies of the first rank and greatest beauty. They are dressed in parti-colored tunics, half of one color and half of another; their tippets are very short, their caps remarkably little and wrapped about the head with cords; their girdles and pouches ornamented with gold and silver, and they wear short swords called daggers before them a little below their waists. They are mounted on the finest horses with the richest furniture and in this attire they ride about from place to place in quest of tournaments.

Why is it that ladies [illegible] in a pose so [illegible] unless it happened that they once rode precisely dressed as men or with even a slighter modification from that dress than now prevails. The female riding costume of to-day is about as Scott describes it in "Diana Vernon." "She wore what has been somewhat universal, a coat vest, and not resembling those of a man, which fashion has since called a riding habit." In literature we have notable instances of the horseback rider. Chaucer has among his "Pilgrims to Canterbury" the nun, the prioress and the buxom widow, with the bells on their palfreys jingling a merry chorus to the ringing laugh of their fair riders." Una on the lion, the Lady Godiva, and Cupid on a lion—Cupid who, if not a lady, is the supposed favorite of ladies—are remembered by everybody. In the "Vicar of Wakefield" Goldsmith sends the family to the village church on horseback. Those who read G. P. R. James' novels, if any such are still living, will remember that he usually introduced his hero in the first few pages in equestrian guise. It was not the King Richard we have already referred to, but King Richard III, who offered his kingdom for a horse.

But not to leave female horseback riding quite so soon, there are two fashions of it which must not escape notice. Though there is no instance of it now known in our country, the "pisana" style, which exists in Mexico, puts the lady in front of her cavalier; and there, too, the pillion of our long ago ancestors is not yet discarded. Some modern poet has described this last way as follows:

This riding double was no crime
In the first good Edward's time;
No brave man thought himself disgraced
By two fair arms around his waist;
Nor did the lady blush vermillion
Dancing on the lady's pillion.

As modern modes of travel have distanced and reduced the universality of the horse and have left horseback riding mostly for health and fashion, it is almost to be wondered at that fashion does not again take up some kind of double style. Nothing could be more pleasant to a young man than to be so helpful as he must be before a pillion, and unless the modern species of girl is altogether unlike her grandmother and great-grandmother she would not (if fashion should dictate this style) greatly sorrow over the pillion and its helper. If two on a toboggan (the right two, of course) add to, if they do not make, its charm, why should not two on a horse give a similar advantage? In the latter case, as in the former, the speed as it increased would serve to cement their friendly attachment to each other. What a pity it is that some of us were born too late for the fashion when it prevailed and shall suffer from being born too early when it is once re-established!

Although horseback riding for ladies has never gone out of fashion since it was devised, it has its ups and downs. In the early days of Vassar college it had a recognized professor and curriculum; but for some reason it is, I think, no longer taught there. You will notice, too, in this country, that it is sometimes all the rage for a single summer, and another season—perhaps on account of injuries received on horseback or from overdoing the exercise—it is scarcely attended to. I imagine that in England and in our own southern states the exercise has its best and most rational development and is not subject to so many whims and vicissitudes as with us.

I think in this country there is no book devoted to female equitation, but in England there is at least one most elaborate production imparting a complete knowledge concerning it. It is full of colored pictures, showing how to sit and ride, and is profuse, too, with its verbal instruction. Let us see what an author like this can tell us—an author who is, as I gather, a female equestrian. Very naturally, she begins with the dress a rider should wear, and she insists that it shall be distinct from every other style of costume. It must have simplicity and elegance, but glittering tinsel and gaudy color should be avoided.

I do not quite understand why she wishes everything which hints of a masculine costume eliminated, for all equestrian dresses for ladies are more or less related to the male dress. [illegible] man's beaver hat or the Derby [illegible] most commonly worn, and the white collar and tie with starched [illegible] [illegible]. Those [illegible] connected with the wavy elegance in the folds of a liberal skirt, are supposed to be especially attractive. But the skirt must not be too long. [illegible] well when extravagantly lengthened, and is dangerous so made, and not at all neat when the roads are muddy. If the waist is too long it will wrinkle [illegible] shorter than ordinary [illegible]. The body of the habit [illegible] fully built [illegible] always allow [illegible] generally [illegible] [illegible] the arms [illegible] broadcloth [illegible] have two [illegible] to afford [illegible] drapery. A button [illegible] skirt and a [illegible] weight it down. Dark underwear and little of it is recommended, and the author's favorite hat is neither the present beaver nor the derby, but "a pretty cavalier hat and feather." You may take your choice as to gauntlets or gloves. It goes without saying that the veil should be short, and though it may be pretty for young girls to have the hair [illegible] it is much more conducive to comfort to have it confined. A stirrup of the slipper style is one of the best and a long whip one of the worst. Ladies who ride on horseback should discard finger rings while they are riding, as these ornaments, with the bridle [illegible] will hurt the fingers.

There is not lady's horse, really, as [illegible] very good horses are as much suited to a skilled lady rider as to a man. Still it is thought a horse exceeding 15 hands [illegible] in height ought not to be selected. In England certain horses are set apart for ladies because ladies do not usually enjoy one that [illegible] though some English ladies do and in England ladies ride horses that leap fences and ditches as they must take part in fox hunting. A horse that is ridden always or often by a lady is commonly despised by an expert [illegible] gaitedness. What is curious is that horses so used do not last so long as those ridden by gentlemen, "the difference being accounted for by the constant use of the off leg in the canter."

Give a lady, then, a rather small horse. If she becomes a trained rider her voice and hand will be as effective with the animal as a man's. Some horses which will not stand a man's handling at all are at once obedient to feminine control.

It is something of an art to mount and dismount a horse on the part of a woman. I don't know how common horse-blocks are in England, but mounting from and dismounting to the ground are there the usual way. But the woman to do this needs a groom. As a groom simply holds the horse, and a gentleman assists the lady in rising and coming down, there is more security, and the feat is more easily done. The good rider only attains success, as in dancing, by considerable practice, joined to natural aptitude. She must sit erect and perfectly square to the front, looking forward directly between the horse's ears. When seated "let the body accommodate itself with an easy pliancy to the movements of the horse." Any moving forward or leaning sideways reduces her power over the horse and destroys the gracefulness of the exercise.

A fair equestrienne is certainly one of the pretty sights. A man on a horse somehow never looks quite right to me. He reminds me of the Centaur. A woman or girl, if a skillful rider, never looks otherwise than attractive. The English author whom we have quoted says: "Many a fair girl has captivated more hearts in a beautiful fitting habit than when she was arrayed for the most distinguished occasion. And how many instances have we not on record of brilliant marriages and princely dowers being won by their faultless symmetry, and a graceful bearing, so frequently displayed within it!" So the fair rider may well say:

Now come ye not near me, my sad soul, to cheer,
With friendship's soft accents or sympathy's tear;
No counsel I ask and no pity I need,
But bring me, oh! bring me, my gallant young steed.
—JOEL BENTON.

TEMPERANCE NOTES.

The Salvation Army does not allow any member to taste, handle or countenance the use of any intoxicating drink.

Major Gen. A. Hilton lately closed a series of meetings at Piqua, Ohio, where 129 new members were added to the W. C. T. U.

Miss Mary Allen West, editor of the Union Signal, was nominated by the Illinois Prohibitionists as one of the trustees of the State university.

Mr. Joseph R. Anderson, prohibition candidate for governor of Tennessee, also one of the national executive committee of the prohibition party, is dead.

Texas is the first of the southern states to declare for woman suffrage through its Woman's Christian Temperance union which she did at the recent state convention.

Indiana W. C. T. U. has just closed its annual convention. All the officers were re-elected, and the prohibition party and woman suffrage were each endorsed without a dissenting vote.

All persons interested in the work for social purity will be rejoiced to know the Indian government has cancelled the circular regulating the social evil within military camps.

Mr. John Jones, relieving officer, Stepney, England, states that of 7,000 applicants for relief, of whose cases he had taken notes not one per cent had been total abstainers.

A most commendable philanthropy has been inaugurated by Mrs. Dr. Smith of Newark, N. J., who has contributed $12,000 for the purpose of constructing a "play house" for the use of children of that city who have no place but the streets to play in.

[illegible] Auction Sale of Lots
[illegible] Terrace Heights [illegible]
Easton, Eldridge & Co.
of San Francisco Auctioneers.

The site of "Terrace Heights" is acknowledged by all to be the prettiest around Salt Lake City and the better classes of residents must necessarily go on the East Bench. The Salt Lake City [illegible] a limited number of lots at their auction sale on June 20 and 21. After the sale prices will be advanced 20 per cent over the highest average price of the latest at auction.

Lots on Capitol Hill Denver, have advanced over 400 per cent. in the past few years. The advance in values has enabled many to build elegant homes from the profit gained from buying several lots when first offered for sale.

"Terrace Heights" is to Salt Lake City what Capitol Hill is to Denver. When the Terrace Park Hotel is completed and the Motor Line is in operation lots which may be bought at auction for $80, will then readily bring from $200 to $250.

The Salt Lake City Improvement Company (a corporation) have made special easy terms and will build houses for those who desire to own their own homes. The liquor clause inserted in every deed, will forever bar out all objectionable neighbors and Terrace Heights will become the select quarter for lovely homes in the most beautiful city between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

Terms of sale—One-third cash, balance in 1 and 2 years at 8 per cent. interest.

[illegible] Western League [illegible] fielding. Ferguson was not [illegible] harder than Ziegler. In the fielding Mc-Andrews play at second was fine. W. S. Lynch and DeWitt carried off the honors for our team. Lynch had seven chances and accepted five. DeWitt had eleven chances and accepted eight. Fitzgerald held down first in good shape [illegible] Smith must be thoroughly alive to the business.

In the batting W. McMahon and Ziegler got home runs. F. McMahon one three and one two bagger, and Smith, Lutz and Bader each had two baggers. This is hard hitting and no doubt. For hits Denver had fifteen with a total of twenty, while Colorado Springs had eleven with a total of eighteen. Mr. Davis umpired quite as well as any we have had here this year. There was a large and delighted crowd on the ground. The score is as follows:

BASE BALL TO-DAY.

To-day will be Ladies' day at the base ball grounds. [illegible] will be admitted free of charge to the grand stand as well as to the grounds. The Colorado Springs team will play the Prides of Denver, which will be found to be a strong aggregation of the best players that the captain of the [illegible] team can gather together and bring down here to beat our team. Castone, Willoughby, Gathosky and Masconi are expected with the Denvers and while the home team proposes to win yet the public may be sure of an interesting exhibition of base ball. Game will be called at 3 p. m. promptly. The list of Denver players has not yet been received. The Colorado Springs team will play as follows:

W. J. McMahon .... catcher
F. McMahon .... pitcher
Lynch .... 2nd base
Fitzgerald .... 1st base
Smith .... 3d base
Goddard .... right field
Hunter .... center field
DeWitt .... short stop

BOARD OF TRADE.

Proceedings of the Board of Trade Meeting Last Evening.

There was a meeting of the board of trade in the city hall last night at half past seven o'clock. President Ehrich and barely a quorum were present.

The secretary read a communication from the Colorado Museum company of Denver, offering to permit the removal to Manitou from Florissant of the large petrified stump owned by the company, if the citizens would pay for the expense of removal. The matter was referred to a committee.

A communication was received from Mr. George Ady, of the Denver, Texas & Ft. Worth railroad, asking that the board take some action in regard to the entertainment of the excursion of the board of trade and cotton exchange of New Orleans, which will arrive in Colorado on the 19th.

The president was instructed to correspond with Mr. Ady and learn what the intentions of the managers are regarding the bringing of the excursionists to this city. If they will visit the city on any one day in a body the board will entertain them with a drive and a dinner in Cheyenne canon, similar to that given the National Editorial association.

The secretary was instructed to inform delinquent members that the society was in need of money and that they would be expected to [illegible]

A motion was carried that a committee of three be appointed to consult with the owner of South Cheyenne canon and see if arrangements could not be made by which the canon could be opened to the public and properly improved. The chair appointed Messrs. F. G. Rowe, J. A. Hayes and A. [illegible] such committee.

The president was instructed to appoint a committee of three persons outside of the board to co-operate with the president and the committee on art and education to assist in the arranging of an art loan exhibition to be given at some time during the summer for the benefit of the Bellevue Sanitarium.

It was decided that the city's fire alarm system should be made a special subject for consideration at the next meeting. Adjourned.

Bonds Accepted.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Bond offerings to-day aggregate $1,277,450. The secretary of the treasury accepted $[illegible] as follows: Four per cent coupon $1100, at 127¼; four per cent registered, $105,000, at 127¼; 4½ per cents registered, $[illegible] at 107, $289,200 at 107¼.

Fiftieth Congress.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—There were many vacant seats on the republican side of the house to-day. It is estimated about 80 representatives have gone to Chicago. The attendance on the democratic side is not much better. Practically no business could be done except by unanimous consent, any member having it in his power to suspend proceedings by making the point of no quorum. Such an incident happened at the very outset, when Townsend, smarting under the defeat of his motion to take up the army appropriation bill, made the point. For half an hour he resisted the appeals of nearly all members to yield his point, but finally yielded to the speaker's plain intimation that nothing could be done if he persisted.

The house proceeded under the regular order [illegible] calendar. After passing several private bills the house took recess until 8 p. m. when private pension bills were considered. Before the recess a resolution of profound sympathy with the German nation in the loss of Emperor Frederick was unanimously adopted.

Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The stock market was dull to-day, movements somewhat irregular, resulting in a substantial gain for most of the active stock. The temper of the room this morning was not bullish. There was a better feeling than has been noticed for some time. Shortly after the opening, however, traders made an attack upon grangers, and St. Paul in particular, and a rumor was circulated that Iowa commissioners had ordered a reduced schedule of rates into effect. This turned the course of the market, though the general list was not so weak, the decline being principally in grangers. Later news came that the new schedule was about 20 per cent. higher than the one proposed at first, and a better feeling was developed at once, which, in the last hour made prices very strong, and was sufficient to wipe out all the early losses and make small gains throughout the list. Final changes are generally in the direction of higher figures. Governments dull and firm.

THE LADS OF NEW YORK.

THERE ARE [illegible] THEM

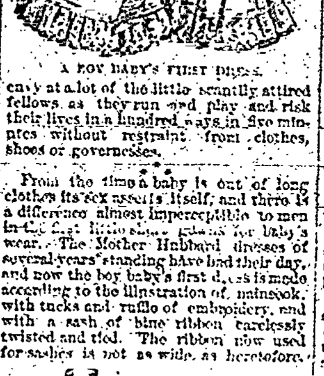
A PREVALENT DOWN TOWN FASHION.

But the youthful residents of all those places bordering on the rivers, below City Hall park, and from the shanties of Goatville, up near Harlem, wear garments which for diversity in shape, color and ornament cast the Murray Hill boys' clothes far and away into the shade.

If the new summer suits for the rich men's boys are brought from London and Paris, the garments of the others have come from every quarter of the globe, and belong to a fashion unique and inimitable. Sailors from deep sea ships, immigrants from far away lands and civilization's [illegible] the source of supply, and no narrow rules are observed as to age, size, fitness, the cut of a collar or the acuteness of the points. Indeed, about the only "roll" is that where a small boy has to roll up a pair of trousers originally made for a giant rancheman from Australia to adjust them to his own size. The ornamentation usually consists of artistic squares of cloth of some brightly contrasting color. A man's vest serves as a cool and elegant summer ulster, and care is taken to have proper ventilation in various places. The style in summer, and too often in winter, is to wear bare feet without the [illegible] of black [illegible] stockings. [illegible] ity is not usually attractive, but it has its advantages, and you often see some little boy dressed in the most expensive garments from Paris, looking with longing envy at a lot of the little scantily attired fellows as they run and play and risk their lives in a hundred ways in five minutes without restraint from clothes, shoes or governesses.

A BOY BABY'S FIRST DRESS.

From the time a baby is out of long clothes its sex asserts itself, and there is a difference almost imperceptible to men in the first little short gowns for baby's wear. The Mother Hubbard dresses of several years' standing have had their day, and now the boy baby's first dress is made according to the illustration of nainsook, with tucks and ruffle of embroidery, and with a sash of blue ribbon carelessly twisted and tied. The ribbon now used for sashes is not as wide as heretofore.



NEW STYLES.

The little shirred yoke, with its bertha of embroidery, is but an old fashion revived, but as some eminent writer observed, new fashions are but forgotten ones resuscitated.

There never has been a time when little boys were so prettily dressed as now, but there is one thing which is a terrible tax on mothers, particularly in summer, when the jackets are [illegible] and colored percale shirt waists worn instead. At every movement of an active boy the buttons fly off. There are eight of them around the belt for the pants to button to, and the strain is so great that no matter how fast they are sewn on they come off, or if they can't do that the button will break or a piece of the muslin will be torn out. The best way to do, and I have tested it effectually with three more less boys, is to have the pants fasten to suspenders and these are worn next the undershirt. The bottom of the shirt waist, instead of having a band and buttons, is made rather long, like a blouse, and hemmed at the bottom with a stout tape run in. This is worn outside the suspenders, and when tied and the ends of the tape tucked in, is very neat and is always in place. All the strain from the pants comes on the elastic suspenders. Mothers ought to try this.

There is a very sensible style for boys in summer, and that is for them to wear pretty colored flannel blouses instead of the white or light percales, which soil so quickly. They are made with plaits down the back and front, and with a band or sailor collar. A [illegible] of bright pink, cardinal, scarlet, [illegible] laced up the front makes them [illegible]. The best families buy them for their boys for summer wear, at seaside or country. They finish with an elastic in the hem at the bottom instead of tape.

Corduroy, English tweed, cheviot, Scotch wool plaids and kindred materials are all suitable for boys' clothes, and are as durable as anything can be under such terrible [illegible] of boys athe-[illegible]

[illegible] pieces along [illegible] and they are but [illegible], but the [illegible] get [illegible] and thus [illegible] the most un-[illegible] There [illegible] which are [illegible] but [illegible] boys in the stockings [illegible] all severe [illegible] clasps, [illegible] when [illegible] and [illegible] No matter how strong the stockings may look, nor how [illegible] the knees are bound [illegible] always to find that [illegible] A pair [illegible] would have [illegible] for a rabbit to jump through [illegible] and when I inquired [illegible] I was gravely told [illegible] the knees of [illegible] to sigh over [illegible] could not explain [illegible] the stockings are made [illegible] knees, and double heels and toes. They are in fine checks and striped lengthwise and round and round. The day of black stockings has gone by. The colors in boys' hosiery are far brighter than for many seasons. White is the groundwork.

Hats vary, and a wide latitude is allowed. The sailor hat is and always will be popular, and the little polo cap is so thoroughly boyish that it will not be discarded. Straw hats of various designs are seen for every day summer wear, and derbys and high crowned straw hats or felt for quite good sized boys are also seen. And from this on to the crownless ragged gear affected by those who form the big majority of the boys in New York, the choice is wide and varied.

There is a tendency to revive the full knickerbocker pants for little boys. These are gathered by an elastic just below the knee, and in fact all the pants now reach below the knee, are are much longer than before for many reasons. This will spare the stockings, but spoil the pants. What is to be done?

Jackets and coats are made [illegible] before, and are not half so pretty in consequence. Still, that gives a boy a chance to not grow out of his coat in two months.

Ties are made of soft surah or crepe de chine and tied in a loose bow, except with boys over 12. They wear standing collars and regular cravats. Bless them all!

THE MOUNTAIN OBSERVATORY

Which is on the Eve of Construction in Denver.

Denver Times.

The ground was broken for the Chamberlin observatory on the campus at University park Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with appropriate ceremonies. The Circle road ran a special train from Curtis street. Among those in attendance were ex-Governor Evans, Bishop Warren, Rev. David H. Moore, D. D., Dr. Buchtel, Prof. Howe and Mr. H. B. Chamberlin, the gentleman who donates the fund to be used in constructing the observatory and purchasing its equipment.

The ceremonies were conducted by Dr. Moore and ex-Governor Evans, and a goodly number of citizens witnessed the interesting event.

The site selected for the observatory is said to afford all the advantages essential to a first-class institution of that kind.

Mr. R. S. Roeschlaub, the architect employed, has finished an elevation, which will not be treated of here, for the reason that, he says, it is subject to all sorts of changes, and no description will be published until the plans be perfected.

Professor Howe the astronomer of the university, will depart upon a tour of inspection in a few days, for the purpose of examining the various observatories throughout the continent [illegible] the instruments in use by them. He is expected to be absent several weeks, and upon his return will [illegible] recommendations regarding the [illegible] plan of construction and equipment which will govern the architect and the university authorities in the [illegible]. The observatory will be under the personal control of Professor Howe.

ABOUT THE TELESCOPE.

The telescope will be such a one as will enable the Chamberlin observatory to compete with other similar institutions in the exploration of the firmament and furnish its full quota of comets, asteroids, etc.

Bids to construct and furnish the telescope have been received from the following manufacturers of optical instruments: Warner & Swazey, Cleveland; Fauth & Co., Washington; Alva Clark & Sons, [illegible]; [illegible] Cambridge, Mass.; P. Brashear, Pittsburg; J. A. Queen & Co., Philadelphia; Besmond & Co., Berlin; Sir Henry Grubb, Dublin; and the Mechanical [illegible], Geneva, Switzerland.

OTHER INSTRUMENTS.

In addition to the telescope the following named instruments necessary to a first class observatory will be purchased: Meridian circle, [illegible] chronograph, [illegible] engine, [illegible] transit, spectroscope, micrometer, [illegible]

One estimate upon the big telescope [illegible] the cost at [illegible]. The estimated cost of other apparatus is [illegible]. The estimate of the [illegible] cost of the observatory building [illegible]

T. W. Sagewood, Signal Corps.

Judge E. O. Hooke left for Chicago yesterday afternoon.

Preaching in the city hall to-morrow at 11 a. m. and at 8 p. m.

A man was fined by the police magistrate for vagrancy yesterday.

Traffic Manager Cartwright of the Midland was in the city yesterday.

United States Marshal Z. T. Hill was in the city on business yesterday.

Colorado Springs versus Pride of Denver on the base ball grounds this afternoon.

A set of the plans of the Presbyterian church was lost yesterday. The finder will please leave it at S. E. Seasions' carpenter shop.

In our business locals this morning some information is given of the grand excursion to the Panhandle of Texas over the Denver, Texas & Fort Worth railroad.

Mr. McShane expects to begin work on the sewers as soon as a car load of material can be obtained, which will probably be within the next ten days.

The time for receiving bids for the Colorado City school building has been extended to Friday noon, June 22nd. This was done to enable the contractors more time to prepare their estimates.

Superintendent Frost is vigorously enforcing the ordinance regulating the use of water for irrigating purposes. During the past week quite a number of citizens have been fined for violating the ordinance.

Mr. A. W. Mitchell, of Denver, portrait artist, has taken the photograph gallery at 122 South Tejon street, where he will continue the business, assisted by the former proprietor, Mr. F. J. Weber.

The trail to the summit of the Peak is now in good condition as far as timber line. From timber line to the top there is a considerable amount of snow. Mr. Cree expects to put the trail in good condition as soon as possible.

The officers of the Young Men's Republican club have received from the Hon. Henry M. Teller a large number of pamphlets on the tariff question, including most of the speeches recently delivered in congress. They will be distributed among the members of the club and to any person desiring them.

Sheriff Jackson arrested a man in Pueblo on Wednesday who stole a team from Stevens' livery stable, in this city, on Tuesday. He had also taken a team from the St. James livery stable at Denver, which he left with the Hutchinson, Williams Livery Co. on arriving here. He was brought to this city and is now in the county jail.

Mr. E. P. Moon, of Husted, furnishes us with the following weather record for the week ending June 13th: Highest temperature, 87° on the 11th; lowest temperature, 41° on the 9th; highest daily mean temperature, 68° on the 13th; lowest daily mean temperature, 67.5° on the 8th; weekly mean temperature, 64.61°. Prevailing direction of the wind south. Clearest days 7th and 8th. Cloudiest days 9th and 10th.

Yesterday afternoon at six o'clock a special train of Pullman sleepers arrived at the Denver and Rio Grande depot. The train contained the Union Republican club of Denver and their friends, who are on their way to attend the national republican convention. The cars were all decorated with flags and bunting. As soon as the train arrived General Charles Adams of the Manitou Mineral Water Park and Bath company presented the club with three cases of Manitou water and one case of Manitou ginger champagne, which will be used on the journey to Chicago.

The royal Roman hippodrome, three ring circus, elevated stage and five continent menagerie of the Sells Brothers is advertised to be in Colorado Springs Thursday, July 5th. An exchange says: "As a successful and ever popular amusement organization, this model exhibition has seldom or never had a precedent. Always up to the full standard of the public's requirements, always presenting feats and features rarely if ever exhibited in other entertainments, always displaying the best collection of wild animals and the rarest living specimens of strange and seldom seen beasts of any in the country, the Sells Brothers' show will be now, as it ever is, a welcome visitor."

Messrs. Barry and Fay are both favorites in Colorado Springs as was attested by the large audience which greeted them at the opera house last evening. Their new piece "McKenna's Flirtation" is brim full of nonsense and ludicrous situations. It gives these two inimitable Irish comedians a splendid opportunity to display their ability which they have fully improved. Notwithstanding the fact that the company were somewhat fatigued by their long and tiresome journey from Chicago they gave a very creditable and pleasing performance. Messrs. Barry and Fay have surrounded themselves with some good specialty artists, whose efforts last evening were liberally acknowledged. In their line of comedy Barry and Fay have no equals, and they are always sure of a cordial welcome in this city.

REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND INSURANCE!

Special Attention Given to the Collection of Rent, Interest, etc. and the care of Property of Persons out of Town.

Insurance Carefully Written in First-Class Companies Only.
Losses Promptly and Satisfactorily Adjusted.

STRANGERS, and others not posted in our Real Estate Market, often ask the question, "Where can I best invest my money to be sure of Quick and Profitable returns?"

1st. I would say, select a locality where you have the [illegible] view of our GRAND MOUNTAIN SCENERY, etc.

2nd. See that you locate where you can enjoy the best WATER ADVANTAGES that our city affords. A home without water in this country is a desert, and when I say "BEST WATER ADVANTAGES" I mean not only for irrigating purposes, which is very important, but also for DOMESTIC PURPOSES. Our water supply at present is limited, and unless greatly increased the time is near at hand, if not already here, when every drop will be needed inside present city limits.

3rd. Do not locate where lots are too low in price—Low priced LOTS bring low priced HOUSES, and a PALACE surrounded by shanties will never sell for half its value. Better economize in other ways and secure a lot that will increase in value.

4th. Dont wait until the "Rock Island" comes in and then pay 25 per cent more than present rates.

5th. "Lastly," call and see us and we will convince you that "BOULDER HEIGHTS" possesses all the above advantages.

SOMETHING NEW.

Having just received one of the Largest consignments of WALL PAPER that was ever brought to El Paso county, at one time, and in order to dispose of it quick, and to give our patrons a share of the profits, we have concluded to give [illegible], that shall be a benefit to every property holder in the county. To every purchaser of six double rolls of Paper and over and border for the same amount of paper, we shall give a chance in a GRAND DRAWING for the papering of three parlors in three different ways the size of the parlor not to exceed 16x18.

THE FIRST PRIZE—Shall be for papering ceiling and walls with the very best hand-made Embossed Paper in our store, the lucky party to select the paper. The wood work to be painted or stained to match the paper.

SECOND PRIZE—The ceiling and walls to be papered with Colored Bronze Paper, wood work painted or stained to match.

THIRD PRIZE—The ceiling and walls papered with a flat paper; that is, a paper without gilt, wood work painted or stained to match.

The mode of drawing will be by tickets, with name and number, put in a box, which will be soldered up and a duplicate of the same given the purchaser. The box will not be opened until the 31st day of July, 1888. The said tickets shall be placed in a revolving wheel and a disinterested party blind-folded shall draw out one ticket, which shall indicate the owner of the first prize. The second and third in the same manner shall then be drawn. a-1-ly
